SNOWFLAKE

NEWS ITEMS

For the purpose of selecting an orator to compete with St. Johns Academy in March, 1913, an oratorical tryout was held in Social Hall Friday evening, January 31, 1913.

The athletic boys are now training on the newly made track for the spring meet. So all people, far and near, may look forward to an interesting contest between St. Johns Academy and Snowflake Academy.

Five contestants, Messrs. G. A. Smith, Lazelle Smith, A. L. Wilhelm, Perrie Willis and Miss Fern Wilhelm, were in the tryout; and each student made an excellent showing. Professors Joseph Peterson, A. T. Bond and N. H. Cornish, who sat as judges, chose Mr. Lazelle Smith as the inter-high school orator. Another pleasing feature of the tryout besides speech making, was the music given by Misses Halley Cummings, Earnestine Housen, Sadie Smith and Clara Housen.

All In The Brush.

John R. Hulet has them all bucked off the boards when it comes to automobiles. Mr. Hulet has a new 1913 model 35 H. P. passenger car, electric starter and noise maker. It is the finest car ever brought to this part of the state and it is as good as it looks.

Coconino Sun Dots.

The governor's call for the special session commencing Feb. 3rd is very "inclusive" and maps out about ninety days work.

George Morse, the sheep man, came in from Holbrook yesterday morning for a couple day's visit with friends here.

"Casey" Jones came home from Ash Fork Wednesday night and left yesterday for Holbrook, with Studebaker autos he intends disposing of in that vicinity.

Just because the Santa Fe thinks we are such riff-raff every traveling man who makes Arizona, or nearly all of them, have requested their houses to ship all goods over any old road possible except the Santa Fe. Of course this is real diabolical on their part.

While in the hands of the democrats at Phoenix, we leave the Sun in the hands of Mr. W. J. Wright. If you want any little old law made while you wait, just send down the "makin's." The more "makin's" you send the longer we'll stay away, for there's no time limit on the legislature, except the condition of the state treasury.

Col. C. W. Harris, adjutant general of Arizona, during his trip north, was interested in finding out whether state laws amounted to anything when they conflicted with Santa Fe rules. He discovered that at Holbrook and Winslow the Santa Fe won, but at Flagstaff he won and was able to ride the limited train. Strange how easy it is for some to ride the limited regardless of the rules while how exceedingly difficult it is for another to even approach that train without a solemn warning to keep off. The question is still to be solved as to whether Arizona was created for the Santa Fe or whether the Santa Fe was built afterwards.

MUCH IS EXPECTED OF SNOWFLAKE COMPANY

Snowflake will have one of the best companies at the National Guard of Arizona encampment next summer, predicts Lieutenant Richard D. LaGarde, inspector and instructor of the N. G. A. Lieutenant LaGarde has just returned from Snowflake, where he assisted in the organization of Co. F. transferred from Clifton to that place.

"There are fifty-eight men in the Snowflake company, and they are all great, husky fellows," said Lieutenant LaGarde. "They are ideal soldiers, and it was almost unnecessary to send a surgeon there to examine them. Fourteen or fifteen of them are more than 6 feet in height. All are big, broad-shouldered country boys, who look like they could stand anything. I think their methods of living have something to do with it. There isn't a saloon in Snowflake, and it is hard to get a cigar there."

"The members of the new company are in earnest. They will continue to take interest in their company because there are no distractions in that town like there are in the cities to keep them away from drill. Why, there isn't a moving picture show in Snowflake."

"After three drills they were able to go through company movements. They had no arms or uniforms, of course, but they will be equipped immediately."

"The most prominent men of Snowflake are members of Co. F. Samuel Smith, president of the Snowflake stake of the Mormon church, is enlisted as a private in the ranks. Mr. Jesse Smith was elected captain; the first lieutenant is a young man named Flake, and the second lieutenant is named Rogers. All are efficient officers."

"Before leaving Snowflake I picked out a target range for the company. It is about two miles and a half from the town."—Gazette.

Notice.

The Board of Supervisors has decided that when any complaint that any saloon that is not run in strict compliance with the law, the county attorney will be instructed to enforce the law, and the sheriff will be called upon to do the work.

Matches Cause Child's Death.

Last Saturday evening Feb. 1 the little child of Mr. and Mrs. Lazell Fish, of Woodruff got hold of some matches in the absence of the mother, and put the head ends of the matches in its mouth and nibbled the tips off. The child absorbed enough of poison from the matches that it died Tuesday morning the fourth. The little one was one of a pair of twins and 18 months old.

Notice.

A petition was presented to the Board of Supervisors, at their last meeting, demanding that the question of selling liquor be submitted to the people for their approval or rejection. The Board proceeded to canvas the petition and found that it lacked nine names of being a legal petition. 350 names are required for an election while there remained but 341 names after the Board had thrown out 44 names that were not found to appear on the great register. The petition was deferred until some later day.

Prof. and Mrs. Cornelius and Mr. and Mrs. Kaufman of Winslow had a time too good on their auto trip from Winslow to Holbrook last Sunday a. m., they were "stuck in the muck" for 5 hours, half way "twixt" the two metropolises and arrived, before day, in Holbrook, wet, bedraggled and muddy, but still jolly.

A VERY WARM ENTHUSIAST

The northern ocean-to-ocean highway route will be marked by unique Grecian signs, somewhat like the Santa Fe's famous sign, says the San Bernardino Evening Index, and says of a Holbrook citizen who attended the good roads convention there that he is a

"A WARM DEFENDER"

"Spirited speeches were made and a real champion of San Bernardino was developed when 'Handsome Harry' Clark, of Holbrook, Arizona, said that when he alighted from the train in this city yesterday morning he asked some one the direction of the town. 'About ten blocks down that way,' was the answer."

This brought G. D. Hutchinson, of Barstow, "Hutch" to his feet, 'I wish to tell you right now that you can't look across San Bernardino by merely putting your specs on,' said 'Hutch'.

"I was here 17 years ago and I have seen San Bernardino grow. Not only San Bernardino but this whole valley is a city and you will find it out when you go out riding this afternoon."

"Well, I just wished to know how far the depot was from the town, said 'Handsome Harry,' with the smile that wont come off."
